PORT STEPHENS CYCLING TOUR

The team

PORT STEPHENS

35 Tattersalls members and guests tackled the 2005 Port Stephens cycling trip with renewed interest with the inclusion of two new events – the King of Mountain hill climb and the 1km dash. More importantly we welcomed the inclusion of two female cyclists who would prove later to set a cracking pace. The weekend commenced with a casual ride on Friday afternoon around the gorgeous

Peloton ride

Nelson Bay peninsula – even spotting a number of dolphins. This set us up nicely for Day 1 which included a 90km peloton ride and the much anticipated King of the Mountain Time trial. Although challenging, each and every rider produced a phenomenal effort to complete the course. Well..almost!

Sunday was to prove the celebration of the weekend. An individual 16km dead flat individual time-trial followed by our blue ribbon event – the 4 rider team 16km pursuit. I believe what made the weekend an overwhelming success was the interest and support displayed to fellow riders. This lifted every rider into producing their finest effort. Our final event was the 1 km dash – the green jersey. Our weekend was complete when a flying Peter Hedge edged out bullocking Paul Webster right on the line.

Congratulations to all riders for your enthusiasm and high-class accomplishments. Special mention to Mark Preston – narrowly taking his second yellow jersey, Paul Webster – our hill king and Peter Hedge for his sprinting prowess.

Note: For a full report, photos and list of the weekends results, please check out our club website under Cycling.

SAND RUNNING

Tattersalls had several competitors enter the second running of the Bondi Barefoot Classic on Sunday 29 May. It is becoming well known for being a solid warm up race before the Manly Soft Sand Classic on 12 June. The competition entails running lengths of Bondi Beach barefoot in the soft sand in either the 4km or 10km events. Both events were very gruelling and were made even tougher due to the strong northerly wind and cool conditions. Competitor numbers swelled to 325, twice that of last year and indicated the event's growing popularity.

Simon Storry

Richard Jagger

Soft sand running requires the runner to pace himself from the start, going out too hard too early could result in a no finish, as experienced by the early race leader in the 9km event. In the 4km event, Simon Storry excelled and finished third overall and won the over 30's age group. Shaun Clyne also put in a great effort and managed to hold out some strong competition.

In the 10km event Tim Noonan, Callum Macleod and Richard Jagger recorded impressive performances. Tim really tested his stamina having completed a half marathon on the Great Ocean Road over the previous weekend. He poses a real threat for the Manly race! It was good to see Callum out running again and we look forward to a big performance on his home beach.

Overall the race was very well organised and Bondi put on an impressive display with some massive swells in the background. Tattersalls expects to have a strong contingent of runners in the Manly event.
